Interests:

I like scary stories. I also like sports. I like being dared to do stuff because I'm always up for a challenge.

About Me:

Me and my friends like to go into this house during the day because at night all the spirits come out. So I just got dared to go into the house at midnight. I like to be up for a challenge. At midnight tonight I have to go into the scary house when all the spirits are released! I have to go into the big bedroom. To prove I went into the big bedroom I have to put my initials on a wall in the big bedroom. Then my friend will come in the house the next day and see that I went into the big bedroom. In the big bedroom I meet someone that I didn't expect meeting. I didn't get to put my initials on a wall of the haunted house. My friends knew I went in the house because they saw me getting chased out by something mean and scary!
